

Have got / haven't got / has got / hasn't got third person singular (he/she/it) = has got.

Example:

I have got a laptop. I haven't got a computer.
She has got two sisters. She hasn't got two brothers.

Fill in the correct form of have:

_____ you got a car? Yes, I _____.

_____ Tanja got a car? No, she _____,
but I _____ got a new one.

_____ Toni got a book? Yes, he _____.

They _____ a big house in the mountains.

_____ you got any cigars? No, I _____,
but my dad _____ some cigars.

_____ your friend got any cigars? No, he _____.

_____ Peter got any cards? Yes, he _____.

David _____ got a new computer.

My parents _____ got a new TV.

_____ you got a dictionary? No, I _____,
but my sister _____ one.

_____ your friends got a dictionary? Yes, Toni _____ one.

You're lucky, you _____ got a cat.

I _____ got a new game, it was very expensive.

_____ they got the same game? No, they _____ a different game.

Yes, we _____ got a car for you, but we _____ got a Rolls Royce.